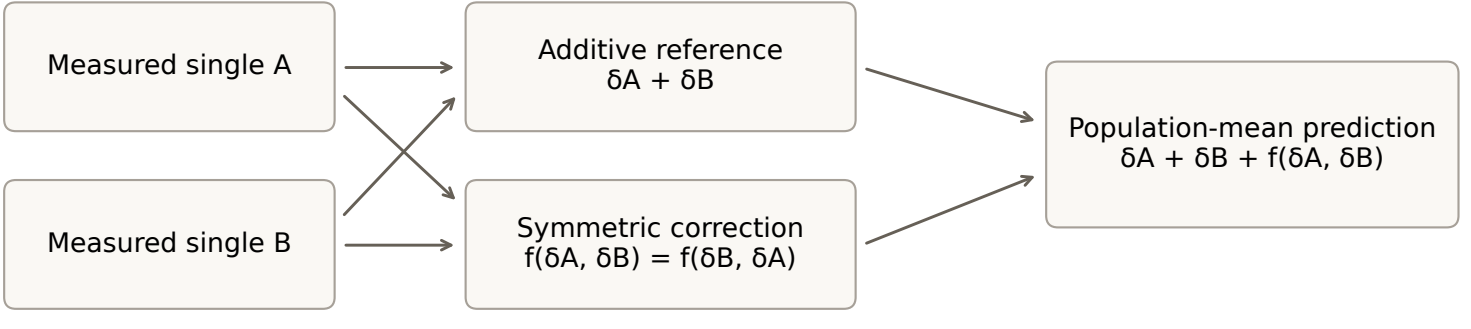
Opal: observed-single residual prediction



Both singles must be measured in the same biological setting. Correction is a predictive residual.